The finality is hereby withdrawn.

Claims 22-29 and 37-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In re claim 22, part d, "the unit pixel area and the pad area" has no antecedent basis.

In re claim 37, part c, "the unit pixel area and the pad area" has no antecedent basis.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 16-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rhodes (US-6,307,243 B1) in view of Li (US-6,249,034 B1) and Fan (US-6,274,917 B1).

Rhodes discloses a CMOS image sensor comprising a semiconductor structure having unit pixel area, a planarized photoresist (25) formed over a portion of the unit pixel area, a micro-lens (70), and an oxide layer (72). Note lines 30-31, column 4 of Rhodes. Li discloses a CMOS image sensor in which a unit pixel area (42) and a pad area (30) are formed in the same semiconductor structure. The metal line is obviously formed in the pad area. Li further teaches the planarized layer (24) formed of nitride material which is known to be photoresist. Fan et al further discloses the passivation layer (48 and 50) over the semiconductor to protect the surface of the image sensor.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to form an oxide layer as taught by Rhodes over a resulting structure in the unit pixel area and the pad area in order to protect the surface of the CMOS image sensor as suggested by Fan..

In re claim 18, no patentable weight is given to the process of forming the oxide layer in a product claim. A "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17(footnote 3). See also In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck, 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery, 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90 (209 USPQ 554 does not deal with this issue); In re Marosi et al, 218 USPQ 289; and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear.

Claims 1-15 stand allowed.

Applicant's arguments filed November 22, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's arguments on page 8 against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642

F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
